Star Market Offers $100,000 For Old Town Yard Property

Proposals For Central Mill Brook Valley

Pictured above are the proposals for the East Mill Brook Valley area as presented in the Planning Board's Comprehensive Report as released this week. Listed below are the definitions of the code numbers in the map.

D-1: Permit walk-up apartments in Russell Street area, to induce gradual self-renewal. Exclude business uses.

R-1: Reserve space off Prescott Street for small playground, to replace Cemetery Street playground.

D-2: Zone for development of high-rise apartments in Chestnut Street-Cemetery Playground area. This is Arlington's best location for such apartments. It is not good for business use.

D-3: Zone for conversion of residential pocket opposite Town Hall to offices, specialty stores, home occupations.

R-2: Develop Fowles Pond area for hockey rink and/or recreation building and parking; enter from Water Street extension.

R-3: Build new Park Department offices, either in Meadow Brook Park or as part of R-2.

R-4: Reuse Jr. High of Industrial Arts site to expand Town offices and adult education, expand parking areas.

D-4: Fill area behind Bacon Street for eventual industrial use, provide access and parking.

D-5: Expand Cemetery entrance from Mystic Street to improve looks and deter business development along this frontage.

C-1: Relocate (future) rapid transit station to Spy Pond side of Arlington Center and provide parking. Ultimately, the tracks should be depressed from this point past Water Street.

C-2: Widen Mystic Street and limit curb cuts near intersection with Chestnut Street.

C-3: Improve and extend Water Street to make internal Star Market has offered the Town of Arlington a sum of $100,000 for the Old Town Yard property at 1083 Mass. ave. It was disclosed by the Arlington Development Commission at a meeting with the Board of Selectmen Monday night.

At the same time the Commission announced that two other concerns had made bids for the property. Herbert Stevens made an offer of $90,000 and Louis Gordon an offer of $90,000.

The majority of the Commission membership was in favor of the bids in the order mentioned above.

Commission member John Mirak told those present that Mr. Mugar of Star Market had stated in a letter to him that a large segment of the land would be used for a Star super-market and the rest for retail stores.

Mirak also stated that according to figures he had the Town would receive some $22,610 in taxes from the property.

Stevens plans if he could purchase the land call for the construction of an Industrial Park Gordon would make the area into an Industrial Park with a warehouse.

Other Offers Received

Two or three other offers had been received but none was deemed to be as definite as the first three.

Star sent a $10,000 deposit to the Selectmen and Stevens brought in a deposit of $5,000.

In a letter to John Mirak Steve Mugar of Star Market stated that if his bid is accepted he could start construction in three months. He stated that he still has hopes for the Route 2 construction which was proposed a number of years ago.

He added that each market would serve a different area of town and that close to 300 persons could be employed in the two sections.

Another member of the Commission Karl Weiss stated that he feels that Star Market wouldn't bring in any more in taxes to the Town than other markets.

He stated that he thought the Town was not necessarily looking for the top dollar but rather for what is best for the community.

Weiss favored use of the area for several small businesses.

Selectman Greeley talked of the possible traffic problem which might be created by Star Market coming to 1083 Mass. ave. Francis O'Hearn of the Commission stated that any business would cause a traffic problem of some sort, but that this matter could be handled as it has in other areas.

Greeley stated that he didn't feel that diversified industry would cause such a problem.

Recalls Route Venture
Mirak stated that he feels we should get what is best for the town, looks the best and best adds to the tax base.

Commission member Harry Behr asked Mr. Stevens what type of business would be situated on the property if he should purchase it.

Stevens said he wouldn't know at this point.

Stevens recalled how Star Market had talked about a Route 2 market 9 years ago.

O'Hearn stated that the Market has been waiting for action by the State relative to Route 2 for 6 years.

Selectman Pellegrini stated that Star Market officials had been very co-operative last year when discussion was under way prior to construction in Route 2 section at Town Meeting time.

Commission member Larry Babine stated that Star came to us with the first firm offer. He stated that action should be taken now.

Weiss asked the Board to consider the cases of Woburn and Burlington.

"New life has been put into these communities through industry," Weiss concluded.

Spy Zoning On Warrant Once Again

Residents of the Marion rd. area and the general vicinity of Lakehill ave. once again are seeking Town Meeting action on a zoning change off Lakehill ave. between Spy Pond and the Boston and Maine R.R.

However, there is a possibility that the request for a change from Residence C to B might never reach Town Meeting floor.

By State Law a zoning change may not be acted on for at least two years after previous action had been taken unless the Planning Board so recommends.

At the Annual Town Meeting in 1961 under Article 64, the Town Meeting voted to change the zoning in the area from B to C thus opening the way for the proposed construction of three ultra-modern five-story apartment buildings.

The vote at that time was 130-63 in favor of the change; a two-thirds vote was needed.

The Planning Board at that time opposed the proposal to re-zone, but a substitute motion was proposed and approved.

Meeting members at a Special Town Meeting in August of 1961 by a roll call vote of 108-60 once again supported the original action of the Annual Town Meeting in March.

Under Article 90 of the Annual Town Meeting last March, a request to re-zone from C to A was turned down by Town Meeting membership.

The land concerned is of the farm-type and lies between the B and M tracks and Spy Pond with access from Lakehill ave.

After the action at the 1961 Special Meeting residents of the area took the question to the courts.

Arlington youngsters took advantage of the oral vaccine given out in the local schools starting this week. Bringing their youngsters to the clinic at the Bishop school are, left: Katherine Sickles, 15 Hazel ter. with son Tommy, four months, and Donna Stauss, 9 Hazel ter. with daughter Tammy, four months and Wayne, almost two. Neighbors' children are three days apart in age.

CAR HITS POLE

Mary Mitchell, 51 Emerson st., Winchester, was treated at Symmes hospital by Dr. Donovan for a head injury, Jan. 12, after an accident on Forest st.

Police say that a car operated by Faith Mitchell, 54 Emerson st., skidded on ice and hit a utility pole at 8:24 a.m.

Congressman Torbert H. MacDonald, 18 Stevens st., Malden, will talk about his recent trip to the East at the V.F.W. Hall, Old Railroad Station, Arlington Center, Saturday night.

Mr. MacDonald was the first Democrat elected in the Eighth Congressional District. He was elected to a fifth term in the expanded District, which now includes Arlington, by a 72,000 margin last November.

3 IN ROW

For the third time in three days, a window was broken in a vacant store at 473 Summer st., Jan. 10.

RADIO TAKEN

Two cars were ransacked in the Municipal Parking lot, Winslow st., last week.

Alfred Mories, 49 Arnold st., Quincy, told police that his glove compartment had been entered and a radio, valued at $23, and a pair of sunglasses had been taken.

On the next day, Jan. 12, Elena Elepli, 18 Golden ave., Medford, told police that her car had been ransacked in the same area.

Comprehensive Report Ready

Arlington's Planning Board Monday night discussed the possibility of hiring a full-time planner, and at the same time presented the Board of Selectmen with copies of the recently completed Comprehensive Plan which is intended as a general guide for the continuing development and improvement of the Town of Arlington.

The report summarizes the findings of studies made during a two-year period and presents recommendations believed to be in the best interests of the town at this time in the light of the many related studies.

In requesting the hiring of a planner the Planning Board listed the many phases of planning which now need someone to follow them through to completion.

Chairman of the Board Mordena Campbell explained the necessity of having a qualified person available throughout the day to answer the many questions which come up relative to planning.

Members of the Board also explained how it is necessary to have someone available at all times in connection with zoning, to study town-wide land use, attend various meetings, handle maintenance of maps and files, etc. and etc.

Miss Campbell noted that because of lack of help many of the files of the Board have not even been opened since she became a member of the Board.

She also mentioned that much of the typing involved is completed by members of the Board.

Objectives of the Plan are two-fold. Objective A is to strengthen Arlington's Residential Role.

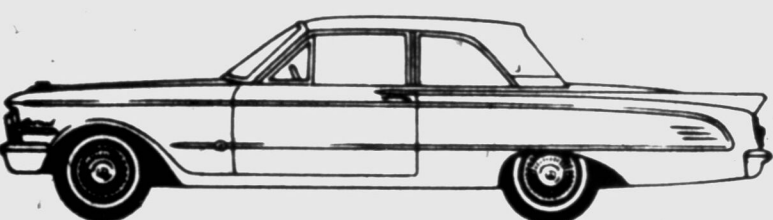

Objective B is to diversify and strengthen Arlington's economic base.

The keys to Arlington's future as a residential community listed under Objective A are as follows: Accessibility, Housing, Schools, Recreation, and Community Prestige.

Under Objective B the Comprehensive Plan can help Arlington to achieve its second

53-Minute March Here On Sunday

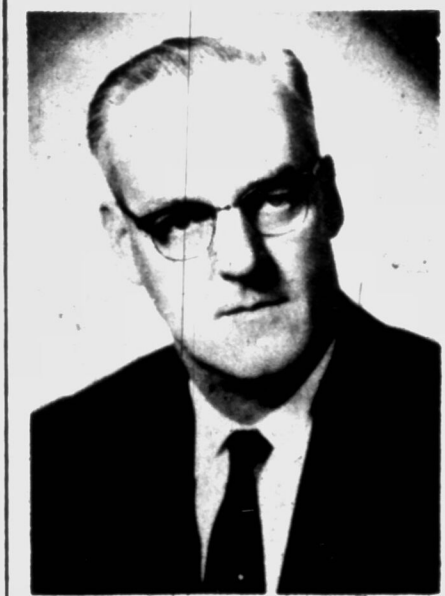

President Herbert L. Connolly of United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Boston has announced that William Hauser of 29 Oxford st. will Chairman the Arlington 53-Minute March on Sunday, Jan. 20 and supervise the scores of Arlington men and women who will solicit funds for the crippling affliction.

"More than 10,000 marchers will participate in the Greater Boston area," said Mr. Connolly. "We are especially fortunate in having people like Mr. Hauser, Fire Chief John Canniff and Campaign Treasurer, Miah Kearney of the Arlington National Bank, who together with the dedicated but unsung volunteer marchers, will insure that medicine and research will make further progress in the cure and rehabilitation of the cerebral palsied."

"The theme of the 1963 Campaign," said Chairman Hauser, "is: 'If he lived next door, would you help' . . . and of course the answer is obvious. Our marchers will make every effort to solicit your home, but if weather or other circumstances preclude this visit, you may take or send your contribution to the nearest Fire Station marked 'for Cerebral Palsy'; the Fire Department has generously cooperated, as in the past, in offering their facilities as a collecting point for all donations and solicitor's kits."

A Horrible Statistic

Seniors and juniors at Arlington High School had an experience they will probably never forget last week when they watched a traffic safety film at a special safety assembly at the school.

Presented in color, the film, "Death on the Highway" showed the results of careless driving, with many shots of smashed cars, maimed and burned bodies, and quiet, but firm comments on the sound track about the results of high speed, drunken driving and carelessness at the wheel.

The showing of this film is but part of a month-wide program presented jointly by the Safety Officer of the Arlington Police Dept., Sgt. Arthur Guarente; Inspector Sidney Green of the Registry of Motor Vehicles office and the Arlington Public Schools.

By the time this paper goes to press, safety films, not the one shown to the high school will have been presented at all but the Bishop school and St. James and St. Agnes. A film will be shown at the Bishop this morning and at St. James and St. Agnes Jan. 30.

Three different types of films were "tied in" with the safety discussions by those mentioned above. For the youngest, the grade 1-3 level, safety was presented in the form of a film, "Peter the Wifflehound". School Patrol was emphasized in a film geared for those in the 4-6 grade level. A film about the Nautilus was tied in with a safety program for those at the Junior High School level.

Probably the direct and indirect results of these films may not be known immediately, but certainly, some impact had to be made on those who viewed the various films.

The one viewed by the juniors and seniors would more than the others seem to have struck home.

Speaking to the students before presenting the film, Sgt. Guarente and Inspector Green stressed to the pupils the need of caution on the highways, both behind the wheel and when a pedestrian.

They also urged the pupils to refuse to ride with a driver who is a show-off.

Maybe such a film is a bit brutal to show to youngsters, particularly girls, but it seems that the only way any of us will learn the "hard facts" is by viewing the horrible results.

The vital statistics speak for themselves. Something must be done to stop the present road carnage which took 700 lives on Mass. highways last year or more than the total number of Mass. men killed in the war during the entire year of 1944.

Two more Arlington men have enlisted in the Air Force through the area recruiting office in the Union Square Post Office Building Somerville. John Greener, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Greener, 455 Summer st., was graduated from Arlington high and was employed at the Stop and Shop prior to enlistment.

James Earls, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Earls, 57 Hillsdale ave., was graduated from Arlington high and was formerly employed by the A&P of Fitchburg. Both men have left for Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas where they will begin their basic training.

Xavier high school of Concord will hold a open-house for eighth grade boys and their parents, Jan. 26 at 10 a.m. Scholarship entrance examinations will be held, Feb. 9 at 9 a.m. Eleven scholarships will be awarded to those taking this examination.

WORD OF THANKS

The Arlington Junior Chamber of Commerce in letters to the Chamber of Commerce and the Town Manager expressed its congratulations for the Christmas lighting along Mass. ave. and in and around Town Buildings. The letter to the Chamber read as follows:

"During our recent survey of the Town on our Christmas Lighting Contest a great many favorable comments were made about the lighting along Massachusetts avenue. On behalf of the Arlington Junior Chamber of Commerce we wish to congratulate you for this splendid contribution to Arlington's Christmas Decorations.

"We are sure that many travelers through our town had praise for your efforts."

The letter to the Manager stated:
"On behalf of the Arlington Junior Chamber of Commerce we wish to congratulate you for the appearance of the Town Buildings during the Holiday Season. It was very pleasing to see our Town Buildings so beautifully decorated as we toured the Town on our Christmas Lighting Contest.
"We hope that in the future this fine spirit will continue."

Both letters were signed by Fred Irons, chairman of the Junior Chamber's Christmas Lighting program.

CARS RANSACKED

Two cars parked in the yard of 118 Decatur st., were ransacked last week. Nothing was reported stolen.

NEUTRAL OBSERVER

The print shop crew, of necessity, cut the Observer down to size a week ago, and in doing so cut out two "scoops". One being that Charles Cremens was taking out papers in the contest for two years on the School Committee.

Now we have found out officially from the Clerk's Office that Mr. "C." has taken out papers and will be a candidate. Thus this contest looms as an interesting one — what with Morine, Desmond and now Cremens going down the line.

Nothing new in the Selectmen's contest, not on the surface anyway. In fact with less than two weeks to go for filing papers, "things are real slow," politically speaking.

However, this looks like one of the year's where anything could and probably will happen. If there are to be any upsets, the Selectmen contest will be the most likely spot.

No predictions yet, not until all the guns are fired and the definite line of battle is formed, two or three weeks hence.

The other print shop "cut" was a lucky one for the Observer. Old Mr. O. thought he had the answer to the question about the new principal to be named at the high school.

We've learned however, that although our guess might have been fairly accurate, things have changed in a week or so so that what could have been now most likely isn't.

—And nothing new on rumored raises for school teachers. School Board meets Monday night at 7:30 p.m. Maybe something will break then.

Monday is the final day for Town Meeting Members, who are candidates for re-election, to give written notice at the Clerk's Office.

Where does the Planning Board proposal for extension of Winslow st. to Mill st. and Water st. to Summer st. leave the proposed Railroad ave. extension article?

Still waiting for the Personnel Board Recommendation on raises for Town Employees and "Men in Blue".

Seems now the Heights residents aren't as interested in taking a section of the Locke lawn for parking purposes as they are having a passageway pushed through behind the buildings from Park ave. to Davis.

Arlington Comes Back Strong, Knocks Newton Into Third

Arlington high school's hockey team kept alive its chances of winning the G.B.I. championship, and in the process knocked Newton out of first place into third behind Medford and Brookline.

Arlington fired 22 times on Newton's Roger Newall with two sliding into the nets for the shutout win. Langone had a much easier time in the Arlington net as the winners out-shot the former first placers by a 2-1 margin.

Neither team was able to score in the opening period, but Arlington moved out front 1-0 early in the second canto on a beautiful goal by Bob Carr.

The Arlington defenseman grabbed the disc at his own blue line, skated down the left lane, got by two Newton defenders and beat Newall from about 8 feet out.

Buddy Clarke put the contest beyond recall for Arlington in the final period when he fired a high shot which just tipped off the Newton goalie's glove into the upper corner of the net at 8:18.

Medford remained the lone undefeated team in the league and took over first place as it bombed Cambridge Latin 5-1.

Brookline scored in every period to beat Rindge Tech 4-0 and move into second place a single point behind Medford.

Waltham kept alive its hopes of moving into the first division with an 8-0 romp over last place Somerville.

Two Wins For St. Agnes Srs.

St. Agnes' C.Y.O. Senior Basketball team enjoyed a victorious weekend winning two games. On Friday night at Medford High School, St. Agnes gained a hard fought victory over St. Joseph's of Medford 103-87. The game proved that St. Agnes' Seniors could really pour the ball through the hoop when they scored 63 points in the second half to come from behind to win.

On Sunday in Fidelity House St. Agnes scored a substantial victory over St. John's of Roxbury 65-30. Never in danger the Seniors rolled to an easy victory.

Many of the players on St. Agnes Senior Team were playing in the C.Y.O. New England Championship a few years ago. They hope to gain that bracket again this year.

The course will begin on Tuesday, Jan. 22 at 6:45 p. m., with a one hour lecture period and one hour of work in the pool. It is free of charge.

News Of The A. Y. A.

The Rules Committee recently submitted the 1963 Baseball Rules to the Coaches Committee for their approval. Among the rules that were submitted was a morality clause based on the qualifications of an A.Y.A. Manager and coach. Briefly it states:

1—The primary purpose of the A.Y.A. Baseball program is the promotion of juvenile decency; and the present managers' and coaches' committee was founded to implement the pursuit of this end. It is therefore incumbent upon each of the managers and coaches that they show a sincere interest in improving our organization and moreover that they give expression to this interest through hard work. Specifically each of the Managers and Coaches of the Coaches Committee shall require and in fact demand that his fellow members do the following:

1—Remember at all times that the league is for the betterment of the boys and not for the promotion of selfish interest on the part of individual managers and coaches.

2—Conduct themselves in a way as to earn the respect

He was the guiding force behind the organization of Scout baseball in Arlington and the rapid growth of Cub Scout activities, particularly in Pack 386.

He was very active in a monthly Round Table Adult Training Program in the Scouting area and actively took part in many Cub Scout activities himself.

He had a wide variety of activities in Little League baseball, but was generally known for his guiding hand in promoting and helping in whatever way he could.

The committee inserting the article in the Warrant was Francis M. Donnelly as chairman.
